

Right Royal Rumpus Synopsis / Cast List

A Right Royal Rumpus has a pantomime feel with a light moral tale included – best described as Panto meets Xbox 360 Live (or How To Turn Spoilt Princesses Into Much Kinder People!)

There are seventeen parts written for each stage with varying degrees of challenge as you rise through the stages. Many characters have more than one line and therefore could be shared out should there be more than seventeen students in any one stage.

The script is slick and fast-paced and a tight show with a running time of approximately 65 minutes (dependent on the musical choices). More music could be added if deemed necessary.

It has also been blocked so that it is clear to the teachers where the best entrances and exits work. It also works with a very simple set of three spaced out rostra upstage (very useful for the later ensemble numbers). All other furniture required is one light, wide table and can be brought on and removed by the students, no adults need appear at any stage during the show!

Stage 1s are Chocolate Mice and Bumble bees, Stage 2s play Cats and Androids, Stage 3s Princesses, Sidekicks, Wicked Witch and and two comic Cooks.

Throughout the piece there are suggested music choices for both singing and dance.
